

Acknowledgements

We would like to acknowledge and thank our editorial board members, who have worked hard to carry on the traditions of the NSPB. We would also like to thank our authors for submitting, revising and refining their manuscripts to produce this issue. As editors, it is difficult to express how grateful we are for the hard work and patience of our editorial board members and authors, but we hope you understand how incredibly valued you are. We are also thankful for the supporters of the NSPB, especially the Psychology Department at The New School for Social Research (NSSR). Additionally, there are several individuals deserving of special recognition, as their contributions over the years have allowed the NSPB to continue. We thank Dr. Howard Steele, our faculty advisor, for his supervision and mentorship. We also thank Dr. MacWelling Todman and Robert Kostrzewa for securing funding for the journal. We would like to thank the previous editors, Alissa von Malachowski and Gabriella Santoro, for their guidance and assistance in transitioning from one editorial board to the next. We also thank our layout editor Alyson Aladro for her continued work for the NSPB over the years. The incredible layout and re-designed cover of this issue represent her hard work and skill. Finally, we thank you, our readers, for your support and attention, which directly contributes to graduate student scholarship.